Petitioner,

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Respondent.

(1) Introduction

11-civ-1874 (RPP)
07-cr - 541 (RPP)

Application for Motion to Correct the Record of 11-civ-
1974 [2255 Motion to Vacate]

This application for a motion is to correct the record by docketing, under the appropriate docket (11-civ-1974) the Petitioner Karron's (admittedly primitive) motion practice briefs that are either miss-docketed under the underlying criminal docket (07-cr-541), mentioned in the docket, or not docketed at all. The first of the two missing briefs are Petitioner Karron's originating resubmitted brief and appendix containing two declarations extensively cited and quoted by the Government Respondent and this Court. For example, the Declaration of Goldberg was made part of the resubmitted originating brief, extensively cited in the Courts Opinion and Order, is not visible in the record. Key reply arguments, such as the argument regarding Brady Violation allegations not required to be raised in the direct appeal, and as of their very nature require expansions of the record, are addressed as matters of law in the Petitioner Karron's "Corrected Sur-Reply" brief.<sup>1</sup> Had this Court reviewed these arguments and other omitted material points such as the Courts own contemporaneous comments on the Governments "Junk Auditing"<sup>2</sup>, there is a very real possibility of a change of heart.

<sup>1</sup> Karron v. U.S.A. Corrected Sur-Reply 28 USC §2255 Page 22 of 31 ("...8) Procedural Default Doctrine does not apply to Brady Claims. The procedural default doctrine applies only to claims that could have been raised at trial or on direct appeal. It does not apply to claims cannot be raised in a direct appeal and that require development of facts outside the trial record<sup>[209]</sup>. The procedural default doctrine never bars a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel raised in a §2255 proceeding, even if that claim could have been, but was not, raised on direct appeal<sup>[210]</sup> 209 Bousley v. U.S., 523 U.S. 614, 118 S.Ct. 1604, 140 L.Ed.2d 828 (1998) 210 Massaro v. United States, 538 U.S. 500, 503-04, 123 S. Ct. 1690, 1693, 155 L.Ed.2d 714 (2003) [CITATIONS AS IN ORIGINAL BRIEF]

It is unfair and against the Interests of Justice and Judicial transparency to not correct the record. The lack of these two material documents in the docket effectively blocks any potential judicial review or reconsideration.

(2) Background Facts

(.1)The Petitioner Karron successfully initiated filed a motion for Habeas Corpus Relief (28 U.S.C. §§ 2255)<sup>3 4</sup> and an originating Memorandum of Law<sup>5</sup>.

(.2)The Petitioner Karron applied to this Court to resubmit her Memorandum of Fact and Law. This application was granted<sup>6 7</sup>.

The Court issued an Opinion and Order<sup>16 17</sup> and an Amended Opinion and Order<sup>18 19</sup> which made references to the Petitioners Resubmitted Memo and possibly ignored the “Corrected Surreply”. The court may have ruled on a critically incomplete briefing. Key material points raised in the “Corrected Sur-Reply” were omitted the Courts Opinion and Order.
